Message from the Principal

As we settle into a routine of daily school life, we can finally turn our attention towards planning activities for the fall. Of course, this will look different than in years past but we hope to provide activities that engage our school community in a fun way while maintaining safe practices. Be on the look out for information on a virtual book fair, Guardian Angel activities, classroom parties, service projects, and fall themed contests.

For our Virtual Students

The structure for class time and assignments is very different from last spring. This is done intentionally to offer the best experience possible for our at home learners.
